Apparently the Democratic convention won't stand any Guffey.

Deserved it all—the man who got six months for beating his mother.

The Montpelier Argus rises to remark that the time probably will not come again when Montpelier will have four county officers.

The "pork barrel," as the public buildings bill is called, comes in handy in these days of stagnant business, because it means the expenditure of some thirty millions for post-offices and court houses in all parts of the country and will give employment to 40,000 men.—Concord Monitor.

The prospects are, however, that they will all die before they get the jobs.

They can't rob you of your past, is the consolation which the Brattleboro Phoenix deals out to its defeated candidate, Kittredge Haskins, and adds "and when an impartial judgment of the history of the last four Congresses is given, the name of Kittredge Haskins will be placed high on the rolls of the honorable and able men who have represented Vermont in national legislative halls."

Sometimes it is good to get licked just to give folks a chance to say something nice about you.

BARRE TOWN'S PROGRESS RECALLED.

The constantly growing importance of our neighboring community, Barre Town, is indicated by the grand list returns, which have just been made to the state treasurer. It now stands relatively third in Washington county in respect to polls, being headed only by Barre City and Montpelier. Within a decade it has outstripped Waterbury and Northfield in population, while its real estate valuation has gone ahead by leaps and bounds. In fact, its real estate is estimated at over a third as large as that of this city itself; due, of course, to the marvelous development of the granite quarrying business, as practically all the Barre granite comes from the Town. It would not be the least surprising if Barre Town should in another decade have a population equal to Montpelier's.

"STANDING PAT."

When it comes to the question of unqualified endorsement, the unanimous re-nomination of Secretary-Treasurer Patrick F. McCarthy of the Quarry Workers' International Union of North America by the fifteen voting branches of the union from Maine to California, in the face of his assertion that he was not a candidate for the office again, is quite remarkable and must have been pleasing to that hustling individual. In fact, the call for him to remain in office is so unanimous that he has decided to stand for re-election and to continue the policies that he has inaugurated in his young but growing organization. The unanimous nomination, like that of the Republican candidate for governor in Vermont, means an election; so we may at this time congratulate him on the

WHAT IS "KNOCKING A TOWN"?

Because it is waging an unrelenting warfare on municipal negligence in the failure of the Rutland city government to provide a proper fire alarm to supplement the really good fire department of that city, the Rutland Herald is being accused by some citizens of "knocking the town"; which is farthest from the purpose and from the result of the contemporary's activity. When the committee of the council, having the matter in charge, lets ten weeks elapse without a fire alarm, it is not time to mince matters, but to speak out the exact facts. In speaking the facts The Herald has had some disagreeable things to put before the citizens of Rutland; but it has not flinched, believing that the acuteness of the situation demanded freedom of expression. The city officials who permit such a state of affairs to exist are the ones who are "knocking the town"; they are giving it a black eye quietly, certainly, and the results will be far more lasting than the revelations which the newspaper is making temporarily. When the citizens realize that fact and by the force of their opinion force remedial action on the part of the recalcitrant city officials, we have no doubt that The Herald will be as prompt to proclaim that fact as far as its circulation may penetrate. Until that time the temporary is really acting the public-spirited part, disagreeable as that part may be.

COAL SHEDS DESTROYED.

St. J. & L. C. R. R. Loses Trestle and 900 Tons of Coal.

Swanton, July 9.—The trestle coal sheds of the St. Johnsbury & Lake Champlain railroad company were destroyed by fire yesterday together with about 900 tons of coal. Fortunately this was only about half of the quantity usually on hand at this season of the year. As the fire originated in the roof it is supposed to have caught from the spark of an engine. The sheds are outside of the village limits, and no help could be given by the fire department.

MONTPELIER

Mrs. Archie Stafford of Rutland is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Pine, her parents.

Mrs. C. D. Wells is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Stoddard, her parents in Waitsfield.

Mrs. George H. Almon and son went yesterday to one of the beaches near Boston for a stay of several weeks.

Louis Hieb of Burlington, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A. was in town yesterday on his way home from Fairlee where he has been attending the camp of the Windsor county Y. M. C. A. boys.

Col. A. C. Brown will celebrate tomorrow his 80th birthday at his home on Summer street. He will be glad to meet his friends in the afternoon from three to five and in the evening from seven to nine o'clock. Rome G. Brown and son of Minneapolis, Minn., are expected to arrive in town today to attend this anniversary.

Chief Wahlen of the fire department and his assistants are making a vigorous effort to locate the person or persons who have recently been stealing the keys to the fire alarm box. It is not known whether this has been done with malicious intent or is the work of hoodlums. Every member of the fire department is co-operating with the officials in this matter and it will be an unfortunate individual who is caught with the goods.

It was expected the chime of bells presented by George H. Cross of St. Johnsbury to Trinity Methodist church of this city would be ready for dedication next Sunday, but Mr. Cross is very anxious that L. Bart Cross, his brother, who is now in a private hospital at Boston, should be present when the chimes are first rung, and the service has been postponed until Saturday and Sunday, July 25 and 26.

4 PER CENT INTEREST ON SAVINGS DEPOSITSRECENT DEATHS IN VERMONT

John Glynn, one of the oldest residents of Hinesburgh, died Monday, July 6, aged 90 years. He was born in Ireland, came to this country when young, and lived and died on the farm which he purchased in a part of the town called Texas. He leaves two sons, Mark of this town, and John of Burlington, and two daughters, of Burlington.

Recent Deaths in Vermont.

Isaac John Brown of Underhill Center suffered a stroke of apoplexy Sunday evening while preparing to go for a drive, and remained in a comatose condition until Monday morning, when he died. Mr. Brown was born in May, 1830.

In early life and after spending some time at Buffalo, N. Y., he engaged in the mercantile business at Underhill, later going to Boston, where he took up the real estate business and insurance. In this he was signally successful, being connected with the adjusting department of several leading fire insurance companies, notably the Granite State of Portsmouth, N. H. It was Mr. Brown's custom to pass the summers at his farm home in Underhill Center and the winters at Hyde Park, Mass., or in travel. He is survived by three sons, his wife dying about eight years ago. The funeral services were held at his late residence Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock and interment was in the family lot in the Church street cemetery at Jericho.

YOUNG BOY IN TROUBLE.

Leon Bushee, Convicted of Theft and Charged With Forgery.
Brattleboro, July 9.—Leon Bushee, 15 years old, was yesterday sentenced to the Vermont Industrial school for the rest of his minority on the charge of petty larceny in stealing a small sum of money yesterday afternoon from Patrick Lynch at the Brattleboro Cabinet company's factory where Bushee was employed.

Bushee was also charged with forgery but this was continued. The young man raised a pay check from $1.25 to $1.92 and wrote over the date and the signature of the treasurer, I. A. Thompson. The check was presented yesterday afternoon at the Vermont national bank where the cashier at once detected a tampering with the amount. Deputy Sheriff C. F. Knapp was sent for and immediately arrested the boy.

Bushee has been in Brattleboro but two months coming from Concord, Mass., to this town. He was taken last night to the industrial school.
